Thanks Bob,

Pat Downs/Bag Checks aren't a problem at all, its just the metal wands that they don't have as standard in Manc/Birmingham. I'm still waiting for The O2 to confirm but from memory I believe they do have either metal wands or airport style gates in house as standard.

Noted on the decant and Birmingham overnight

Many thanks

Rik

Hi Bob,

Just wanting to clarify a few things with your ahead of these shows.

Floor Decant - On seated shows generally they don't do a full/floor decant as standard policy would be tops off the bottles, i've noticed you've requested one in your advance. I believe the cost to do this for the floor only in Birmingham is around [Commercially Sensitive] + VAT and i'd need to check in with the London/Manchester venues on the cost to do this there. If a full venue decant is required its around [Commercially Sensitive] + VAT. Could you please advise if you'd need this to happen? I can work with DeCapping the bottles plastic only but not aluminum or glass bottles please.

Customer Searches - No issues what so ever with the bag searches etc. the only thing that may cause additional charges would be if you're needing the venues to get magnetic wands in where they don't do this as standard. Would you mind clarifying what you'd like them to do in regards to that? so are telling they don't do at least a pat down? Bags are fine but please advise on wether that is all they do.

Birmingham Overnight Security - I currently have [os] Security booked from [OS] on the 17th May to cover the parking overnight prior to the show on the 18th May. Please advise if you need them to come any earlier? That should be fine...

Many thanks

Rik
